Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Tuesday 23 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly dry today, but rain in the northwest later.

Today:
Some sunny spells for the northeast and Northern Isles, otherwise remaining generally cloudy. Rain spreading to the northwest this afternoon. Becoming windy this afternoon, south or southwesterly gale or severe gales in the northwest for a time.

Tonight:
Outbreaks of rain clearing southeast this evening. Then clear periods and occasional showers in the northwest, mainly dry elsewhere. Strong southwesterly winds in the far north.

Wednesday:
Sunny intervals and a few showers, some good spells of drier weather too. Still quite breezy in the far northwest.

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Scattered showers on Thursday, most frequent in the west. Cold and bright on Friday with showers, wintry on hills. Bright on Saturday with fewer showers.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.